

HarvestForge – Joke Book

A Spark & Anvil joke book. Groan-worthy puns, tricky riddles, silly nonsense, and real fun facts from the world of HarvestForge – read them out loud and make someone laugh.

I told the soil a joke, but it didn't laugh -- it said it had already composted that one.

How to use this book

Read a joke, pause at the question, and try to guess the answer before you read on. Best of all: read them out loud to a friend, a grown-up, or your class. A good laugh makes the tricky stuff easier – that's real science.

Spark & Anvil is a 501(c)(3) public charity. Every app, story, and book is free, forever – no ads, no in-app purchases, no tracking. Released under Creative Commons BY-NC-SA 4.0 for educational reuse.

HarvestForge – Joke Book

How to use this book

Puns

Keep laughing

Keep exploring online

Puns

I told the soil a joke, but it didn't laugh -- it said it had already composted that one.

The farmer was outstanding in his field -- literally, he'd been out there since 5 AM.

Crop rotation is like musical chairs for vegetables. Every year, someone has to move.

The corn stalks were great listeners -- they were all ears.

The lettuce won the race because it was a head from the very start.

I tried to write a report on sustainable farming, but I kept going off on tangents -- like a tractor in a field.

The supply chain broke down, and the vegetables were devastated -- they said they couldn't turnip to work.

Irrigation engineers have the best flow -- literally.

The potato didn't want to go to the food processing plant. It said it didn't want to be mashed by the system.

The worm felt unappreciated, but it really was the backbone of the soil ecosystem -- or at least the spine.

The chicken and the egg had a food miles debate. The chicken said, "I came first." The egg said, "Prove it."

The farmer started a podcast about soil microbes. It's called "Breaking Ground."

My compost heap and I have great chemistry -- it's all about the carbon-to-nitrogen ratio.

The tractor wanted to retire, but the farmer said it still had a lot of ground to cover.

Food justice warriors never dessert their cause.

The greenhouse wasn't very humble -- it was always boasting about its growing achievements.

The zucchini had an identity crisis in the supply chain. "Am I a fruit or a vegetable?"

 And why am I next to the flowers?"

Cover crops are the unsung heroes of farming -- they do all the work and then get plowed under.

The bee and the farmer had a deal -- it was a real honey of an arrangement.

Organic farming is a growing movement -- pun absolutely intended.

Keep laughing

That's 20 jokes from HarvestForge. Made someone laugh? Try making up your own – the best jokes are the ones you tell.

Spark & Anvil is a 501(c)(3) public charity. Every app, story, and book is free, forever – no ads, no in-app purchases, no tracking. Released under Creative Commons BY-NC-SA 4.0 for educational reuse.

Keep exploring online

Play it now	Meet the cast	More free books

https://spark-and-anvil.org/play/harvestforge	https://spark-and-anvil.org/cast/harvestforge	https://spark-and-anvil.org/books

Scan a code with any phone camera, or type the address. Every app, story, and book is free, forever – no account, no tracking.