

Inclusionforge – Joke Book

A Spark & Anvil joke book. Groan-worthy puns, tricky riddles, silly nonsense, and real fun facts from the world of Inclusionforge – read them out loud and make someone laugh.

Universal Design isn't just good design -- it's design that gives everyone a seat at the table. Sometimes literally.

How to use this book

Read a joke, pause at the question, and try to guess the answer before you read on. Best of all: read them out loud to a friend, a grown-up, or your class. A good laugh makes the tricky stuff easier – that's real science.

Spark & Anvil is a 501(c)(3) public charity. Every app, story, and book is free, forever – no ads, no in-app purchases, no tracking. Released under Creative Commons BY-NC-SA 4.0 for educational reuse.

Inclusionforge – Joke Book

How to use this book

Puns

Keep laughing

Keep exploring online

Puns

Universal Design isn't just good design -- it's design that gives everyone a seat at the table. Sometimes literally.

The curb cut said to the wheelchair user, the parent with a stroller, and the person pulling a suitcase:

💡 "You're ALL welcome."

I tried to design a building without accessibility features. My blueprint was rejected -- it just didn't have any foundation in fairness.

Screen readers are amazing -- they never judge a book by its cover. Or a website by its layout.

Braille is a language you can really feel. No, seriously, that's exactly how it works.

The elevator and the stairs got into an argument about who was more inclusive. The ramp said, "Amateurs."

Closed captions:

💡 helping people follow the movie since 1972 -- and also helping everyone figure out what that character just mumbled.

I asked the accessible playground what made it special. It said, "I swing both ways -- adaptive AND traditional."

Alt text for images is like a translator between the visual world and the digital world -- it speaks for the pictures that can't speak for themselves.

The sign language interpreter at the concert was the real rock star -- hands down.

Good accessibility isn't an afterthought -- it's a forethought. Design it in, don't bolt it on!

The automatic door said, "I open for everyone." The revolving door said, "I try, but I make some people go in circles."

Color contrast is a big deal in design -- you could say it really makes things stand out.

The hearing aid and the glasses met at a party. "We have so much in common," they agreed. "We both help people experience the world more fully."

Being an ally isn't about standing IN for someone -- it's about standing WITH them.

The wheelchair ramp didn't want a trophy. It said, "I'm not here for awards -- I'm here to level the playing field."

Inclusive design is like cooking for friends with different tastes -- you don't make them all eat the same thing, you make sure everyone gets something delicious.

The text-to-speech app walked into a library and said, "Finally, a place where I can really shine -- quietly."

I asked the tactile paving why it had bumps. It said, "I'm just trying to point people in the right direction."

Fidget tools aren't distractions -- they're focus assistants with great hand-eye coordination.

Keep laughing

That's 20 jokes from Inclusionforge. Made someone laugh? Try making up your own – the best jokes are the ones you tell.

Spark & Anvil is a 501(c)(3) public charity. Every app, story, and book is free, forever – no ads, no in-app purchases, no tracking. Released under Creative Commons BY-NC-SA 4.0 for educational reuse.

Keep exploring online

Play it now	Meet the cast	More free books

https://spark-and-anvil.org/play/inclusionforge	https://spark-and-anvil.org/cast/inclusionforge	https://spark-and-anvil.org/books

Scan a code with any phone camera, or type the address. Every app, story, and book is free, forever – no account, no tracking.