

LifeQuest – Joke Book

A Spark & Anvil joke book. Groan-worthy puns, tricky riddles, silly nonsense, and real fun facts from the world of LifeQuest – read them out loud and make someone laugh.

I'm trying to save money, but it keeps spending time with other people.

How to use this book

Read a joke, pause at the question, and try to guess the answer before you read on. Best of all: read them out loud to a friend, a grown-up, or your class. A good laugh makes the tricky stuff easier – that's real science.

Puns

I'm trying to save money, but it keeps spending time with other people.

The budget said to the expenses, "I can't keep carrying you like this -- you're over the limit!"

I read the fine print on my phone plan. Now I need glasses -- and a lawyer.

The job interviewer asked if I could perform under pressure. I said, "No, but I can do a pretty good Bohemian Rhapsody."

I told my grocery list to be reasonable. It said, "Organic snacks aren't cheap, and neither are my standards."

The scam email was so obvious, even my spam folder was insulted.

My piggy bank is on a diet -- it only accepts small change.

I tried to file my taxes but I couldn't find the right folder. Now I have a filing problem.

The apartment lease was so long, by the time I finished reading it, the lease had expired.

I opened a lemonade stand to learn about business. My first lesson?

 Lemons aren't cheap, and neither is rent.

Comparison shopping is like dating -- you have to look at multiple options before making a commitment.

My budget and my shopping cart had a meeting. My budget lost.

The coupon was feeling down because it kept getting cut out of people's lives.

I asked the ATM for financial advice. It just said, "Insufficient funds."

The resume walked into the interview and said, "Everything on me is true." The interviewer raised an eyebrow.

My credit score and my grades have something in common -- they both go down when I stop paying attention.

I wanted to learn about interest rates, but honestly, I lost interest.

The receipt was shocked at how long it was -- even IT couldn't believe all the stuff I bought.

A penny for your thoughts?

 In this economy, I'll need at least a quarter.

The contract had so many clauses, Santa got confused and thought it was his.
