

ScienceForge – Joke Book

A Spark & Anvil joke book. Groan-worthy puns, tricky riddles, silly nonsense, and real fun facts from the world of ScienceForge – read them out loud and make someone laugh.

Why can't you trust atoms?

Because they make up everything!

How to use this book

Read a joke, pause at the question, and try to guess the answer before you read on. Best of all: read them out loud to a friend, a grown-up, or your class. A good laugh makes the tricky stuff easier – that's real science.

Puns

Why can't you trust atoms?

💡 Because they make up everything!

I'd tell you a chemistry joke, but all the good ones argon!

Why did the hypothesis go to therapy?

💡 It had too many uncontrolled variables!

What did the scientist say when they found two isotopes of helium?

💡 HeHe!

I tried to make a joke about the scientific method, but my hypothesis was wrong.

Why do biologists look forward to casual Fridays?

💡 They get to wear genes to work!

What did the control group say to the experimental group?

💡 "Don't change -- I'll be the comparison!"

The physics lab's pendulum is really popular -- it keeps swinging by!

Why was the pH paper such a drama queen?

 Because it turned red at the slightest acid!

What's a scientist's favorite type of dog?

 A Lab!

Why did the data table break up with the bar graph?

 It found someone with better lines -- the line graph!

The rock cycle geologist had a gneiss day -- it was truly marble-ous!

Why did the plant fail the science test?

 It couldn't photosynthesize the material fast enough!

The science fair judge said the volcano project was lava-ly, but the eruption was a bit over-flowing with enthusiasm.

What did the beaker say to the test tube?

 "You're tubular!"

The dependent variable is so needy -- it always changes based on what everyone else does!

Why don't scientists trust stairs?

 Because they're always up to something!

What did the thermometer say to the graduated cylinder?

"You may have graduated, but I have more degrees!"

The erosion table in the earth science lab really rocks -- it keeps wearing me down!

I wanted to study gravity, but the topic was just too heavy. On the other hand, it's always bringing me down anyway!
