Meet the cast — and what each one teaches

| Character | What they carry                                                                                                                                 |
|------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Hopp      | Inhibitory control (hero) — a bouncy kangaroo who hops on 'go!' and freezes stock-still on 'stop!'; the wait-then-act IS self-control                  |
| Mem       | Working memory — a kind elephant who holds a little string of things in mind and brings them back after a pause                                        |
| Flippa    | Cognitive flexibility — a cheerful chameleon who changes color when the rule changes (sort by color → now by shape); switching the rule IS flexibility |
| Stepp     | Planning / goal-holding — a busy beaver who lays the stepping-stones in order before crossing; planning the steps IS staying on task                   |
